Acts of Recovery

By Michael D. Hoffman  One of our founders, Mike offers here is remarkable story, told honestly and bravely, about his unique journey to heal after having been sexually abused as a child by a priest who was a trusted family friend. After memories were triggered in 2006 by a newspaper article with his abuser’s name and the name of other victims, Mike took what he calls his “twelve acts of recovery” which involved sharing his truth with family and Church, revisiting places to put memories to rest, and ultimately moving forward to the point where he has been able to co-founder The Healing Voices.

By Rev. Lewis S. Fiorelli, OSFS, and Teresa Pitt Green  A workbook, whose co-author is a founder of this newsletter, offers a language for healing dialogue between adults who wish to integrate their Catholic faith into the arduous psychological recovery from child abuse (and those who love them) with ministers, priests, nuns, deacons and others who seek to offer spiritual guidance. Based on successful workshops, presentations and retreats in the diocese of Arlington, Virginia (imprimatur, nihil obstat)

The Archdiocese of Los Angeles and our community of faith stand resolute in our commitment to report allegations to law enforcement, support victim-survivors of sexual misconduct, and protect children and the vulnerable.

The Archdiocese of Los Angeles has been committed to providing a safe environment for young people in our schools, parishes and other ministries. In the early 2000s, strict policies and programs for the protection of minors and vulnerable were adopted, including:

- A Zero-tolerance policy that states that anyone – clergy or a lay person – found to have abused a minor at any time in their life may not serve in any capacity in the Archdiocese.

- Archdiocesan parishes and schools have established Safeguard the Children Committees. These committees ensure that every adult (clergy, religious women, staff members, teachers, volunteers) who supervise children and youth are required to go through the following:
  - Background check and finger printing, that includes on-going checking for any subsequent arrests.
  - Participate in the VIRTUS abuse prevention training, the Archdiocese’s child abuse prevention and awareness program.

- Every year, all children and youth in Catholic Schools or in religious education programs participate in age-appropriate abuse prevention training programs. These programs enable children to understand boundaries and warning signs. They are given the tools they need to report instances where they, or others, are made to feel uncomfortable, scared or confused.

- Since 2002, more than 329,000 adults have been trained in abuse prevention and reporting, and more than 168,000 adults who have direct supervisory roles with minors have been fingerprinted and undergone background checks. Every year, more than 165,000 catholic school and religious education students received abuse prevention training program.

- Every year, the Archdiocese of Los Angeles must submit a report to the U.S. Catholic Conference Bishops (USCCB) on how it is complying with these procedures, and every three years the diocese undergoes an on-site audit by an independent auditor. The Archdiocese has been in compliance in each audit since the first audit in 2003.
Clergy: All clergy are required to comply with the Safe Environment requirements for adults and are fingerprinted. In addition, seminary and diaconate formation address the Archdiocese’s commitment to protection and prevention, and the admission processes include psychological testing.

Visiting priests and deacons: All priests and deacons who visit or come to minister from outside of the diocese must present in advance a Statement of Suitability issued by their bishop or religious superior indicating that:

- The priest or deacon is a person of good moral character and reputation.
- They know of nothing that would in any way limit or disqualify the priest or deacon from this ministry.
- They are unaware of anything in his background that would render the priest or deacon unsuitable to work with minors.

HOW WE RESPOND TO A REPORT OF SEXUAL MISCONDUCT

The Archdiocese continues to be vigilant in ensuring that immediate action is taken when any allegation of sexual misconduct involving any lay staff, volunteer or clergy is received.

The Archdiocese of Los Angeles has strict protocols for handling all allegations, whether the matter involves a priest, deacon, lay staff member or volunteer:

- Reports of abuse are taken by the Office of Victims Assistance Ministry as well as parishes, schools and other Archdiocesan ministries.
- All allegations are investigated internally regardless of the statute of limitations or the status of the accused, and all allegations of misconduct involving a living person is reported to law enforcement.
- The accused is removed pending the result of the law enforcement and independent internal investigations conducted by retired FBI special agents.
- Victim-survivors and their families are offered healing support and professional counseling through the Office of Victims Assistance Ministry.
- Public announcements are made at the parishes and schools where the accused has served.
- When the allegation involves a priest or deacon, the Archdiocese also follows the Archdiocesan Policy for Addressing Allegations of Sexual Abuse or Misconduct by Clergy, which includes a referral to the Clergy Misconduct Oversight Board, an independent board which advises the archbishop. The Board includes healthcare, legal and social service professionals as well as a victim-survivor and clergy. If the Board determines that the allegation is credible or plausible (if the accused is deceased), his name is added to the Report to the People of God List of Accused Clergy.

The Archdiocese offers its most sincere apology to every person who has been harmed by a member of the Church. We will not tolerate anyone who does harm to a child or vulnerable person. We remain committed and vigilant in ensuring that parishes, schools and ministries are safe places for everyone in our community.
